

Submitting Author Information

- Name: first and last name
- Additional information: email, phone, institution/organization, role in field
- Co-author information: first author, all co-authors

General Submission Information

- Track: prevention, treatment, or recovery
- Category: original research, literature summary, theoretical commentary, program description, clinical techniques, policy/advocacy methods, or implementation issues

Submission Content

- Format: roundtable, panel presentation, technical workshop, individual presentation, or poster
- Submission title (100 characters max)
- Submission abstract/panel overview (400 words max)
- Plain language description (400 characters max)
- Three learning objectives (Only for roundtable, technical workshop, and individual presentation*)
- Presenters/panelists/discussant:
 - Name: title, first name, middle initial, last name, degree letters
 - Additional information: email, institution/organization

Panel Information

- Discussant: first and last name
- For each abstract in the panel (1-3 abstracts allowed):
 - Abstract title (100 characters max)
 - Abstract text (400 words max)
 - Three learning objectives
 - Abstract panelist: first and last name

Final Details and Acknowledgements

- Youth engagement guidelines – if a young person with lived experience will be a co-presenter on this presentation:
 - How will young people be involved in the session?; How will the submitter ensure ethical and supported participation?
 - I acknowledge that if my proposal is accepted and includes youth with lived experience as co-presenters, I will be required to meet with the conference team in advance of the event to discuss my plan for youth engagement.
- I acknowledge that, if accepted, this presentation will be expected to be given in-person in Baltimore, Maryland March 24-26, 2026.
- I acknowledge that if I choose to present at the 2026 Joint Meeting, my co-presenters and I will be expected to purchase a conference registration.